

The Lloyd's Register Foundation World Risk Poll: Stories from the poll: Transcript

We face risks every day, whether at work or home from extreme weather or unsafe food and water, risks can translate to harm to people around the world.

Sudha, New Delhi, India:

"We make food on a wood stove and the smoke irritates our eyes. We face a lot of problems in the village. The drains remain clogged and dirty. It leads to the breeding of mosquitoes and flies. We don't have any hospitals nearby, people fall sick easily. It is a trouble to reach the hospital. "

The Lloyd's Register Foundation World Risk Poll is the first of its kind. By applying insight to better understand and manage the risks facing us all we can make our world a safer place.
